

The bright-weather of the past few days has caused many plans for an outdoor day today, and if the sun keeps up his work there will be numerous motor parties to the north and south, especially the latter, for the roads down that way are in fine shape. And there could be few more real delights for those who love the outdoors than a run down to the valley south of here. Despite the fact that only a few miles intervene, the spring is fully two weeks further advanced than it is here. Great beds of daffodils and hyacinths are in full bloom, and the air is filled with the sweet perfume of violets. The apricot blossoms are well out, and on the peach trees there is a touch of that rare pinky tint already. The high mountains close to the Garden City give just enough of shelter to set growing things to showing off ten days or a fortnight earlier than they get busy here.

That Boston has always been considered the center and very nearly the circumference of its devotees, has been conceded by a generous American public for many years. The traditions of the learning and erudition of its fortunate inhabitant, has gone far, and so when another side is presented it is hailed with delight by those of the wild regions not adjacent to the culture center. A party of tourists entered one of the fashionable hotels during the past week, and after finding fault with everything in sight and especially with the prices, they strolled into a shop adjoining, where china, pictures of Utah scenes and such things were displayed. After getting all the looks there were coming for no price of admission, one of the women turned to the group and said, in the cultured fashion of her far-famed region:

"Why, you see lots of them there things right in Boston."

"Say, are you going to see this Fighting Bob today?" asked a small boy of another, yesterday morning.

"Yes, I am," was the emphatic reply.

"Say, where is he going to fight, indoors or in the high school grounds?"

"Oh, he's not going to fight. He's going to review the cadets' parade."

"Oh, what'd he come here for, and what's the use going to see him if he's not going to fight?"

There's a popular eastern publication devoted very largely to fashions and fads, which runs a special department offering for sale the cast-off finery of the smart set. If Salt Lake had such a sheet it might contain some interesting ads just at the present time in regard to two lovely gowns and some other raiment suitable for large ladies about the size of some young newspaper men. It is to be hoped that the men of the Press club will prevent all such pulling and hauling as they aver exists at bargain sales, for the lovely raiment will be ruined if it is subjected to a real squabble.

Lovers of good music will be delighted to know that they are to have an opportunity of hearing Mrs. E. W. McGurkin with her harp at the next Symphony concert, the first Sunday after Easter. There are so few harpists in local musical circles that Salt Lake appreciates all the more the fact that two women so gifted as Mrs. McGurkin and Mrs. Tuttle have been willing to place their services at the disposal of the symphony concert management.

The Lundie Girls were very pleasantly entertained Monday evening by Miss Marian Hamlin. Music and games were enjoyed, after which dainty refreshments were served. The club meets with Miss Delavon Childs Monday evening, April 12.

Women's Clubs.

The only important action at the meeting on Friday of the state board of directors of the Federation of Women's clubs was the definite decision to hold the annual meeting this year in Salt Lake. This action was expected among club women, for it has gone by custom that the election year the meeting shall be here, while in alternating years the place selected may be some out-of-the-way one interested in club work. The new year-books of the federation will be out very shortly. Mrs. E. O. Leatherwood having charge of their publication, and before another meeting of the board a program committee for the autumn will be selected.

The meeting held Friday was largely of a social nature as well as the members of the board being entertained at a luncheon at the university, to which were asked, besides the directors, Mrs. J. T. Kingsbury, the wife of the president; Mrs. W. W. Rife of the regents; Mrs. C. S. Kinney, the former president, and Miss Van Cott, the dean of women at the university. The luncheon was planned and served by Miss Van Cott's department, and was an especial feature.

The Spirit of Liberty chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet on Thursday with Mrs. J. R. Walker at her home on Brigham street. Miss Mary Olive Gray will have charge of the program, and Miss Josephine Spencer has been asked to give some readings from her poems. One feature will be a poem of Miss Spencer's set to music by Spencer Clawson, which will be sung. Vocal numbers by Mrs. W. A. Wetzel and Miss Aulice Belden will be given, and instrumental selections by Miss Duvall and Miss Williamson.

The music section of the Ladies' Literary club will hold its last regular meeting Wednesday morning, April 21, at 10 o'clock at the club house. This meeting will be for the transaction of business only, planning the work for next year, the election of officers, arranging for the final program and all other business concerning the section. The miscellaneous musical program, which will close the work of the present year, will be given Thursday evening, April 22, at the club house, and will be announced later.

The Daughters of the Utah Pioneers will hold a meeting on Wednesday at 4 o'clock at the Lion House, to which all interested are invited.

There will be no meeting of the Ladies' Literary club next Friday, and the program outlined for that day will be given on April 30.

Mrs. Edwin Kimball will entertain the members of the American Music society and their friends on Tuesday evening, April 6. The program will be devoted to the works of Utah composers, and those represented will be J. J. McClellan, Mrs. Edith W. Richardson, Mrs. Martha R. King, Mrs. Emily C. Burke, W. C. Clive, Dewey Richards, Squire Coop, Anton Pederson, Arthur Shepherd and Willard Wallace.

Mrs. M. Trupper Maynard will address the Woman's "American" club tomorrow on the "Problems of Woman," and there will be a general discussion of the laws of Utah as pertaining to women. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. H. Raybould on West Temple street.

The Ladies' club of the Plymouth Congregational church will give "The Old Maids' Convention" on Thursday evening.

The Daughters of the Confederacy met at the home of Mrs. Sol Siegel and spent a social afternoon. A delightful musical program was rendered, and tea was served. The name of the local chapter was changed from the Bridge-well chapter to the Robert E. Lee chapter of Utah.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held next Friday with Mrs. U. H. Hickey. Mrs. Tom D. Pitt will have charge of the program.

HAIR REMOVERS
ARE DANGEROUS

Dr. Wertenbaker Says:—"Don't Use Poisonous Depilatories."

In treating superfluous hair it is of vital importance that the agent to be employed should be absolutely non-poisonous, antiseptic and germicidal, because if it is not so with frequent use it will produce eczema or blood poisoning. The trouble with the majority of ladies is that they don't do a little thinking for themselves. When an assertion is made by some unreliable concern they take it as gospel truth. They never consider the reliability, neither do they question or ask for any substantiating proof that a preparation is non-poisonous. They seem to think that the bare word of the manufacturer is sufficient. To the contrary, ladies should be most particular in choosing a hair remover and learn first what reputable authorities know about it.

Dr. Wertenbaker, the prominent physician, says:—"For several years I said to my patients, 'Don't use poisonous depilatories, because they are bound to do harm. I have found De Miraclo to be absolutely non-poisonous, antiseptic and germicidal; therefore, on account of these qualities, it is distinctly beneficial to the skin and under no circumstances can it produce eczema or blood poisoning. I have used the preparation in my practice for a number of years, and find that the principle of its chemical and physiological action is correct. I consider it the only satisfactory method for the removal of superfluous hair.'

Better take a doctor's advice. Don't be deceived with the false free treatments which are advertised so extensively in the newspapers. Remember, after you have used worthless concoctions it will be harder to remove the hair; therefore, isn't it better to investigate all hair removers first, before you try any of them?

We will send you absolutely free, in plain sealed envelope, a 54-page booklet containing full information concerning this remarkable treatment, as well as testimonials of prominent physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and the principal magazines. You should read this booklet before you try anything. It treats the subject exhaustively. Write to the DE MIRACLO CHEMICAL COMPANY, desk 50, 196 Park avenue, New York, simply saying you want this booklet, and it will be mailed, sealed, at once.
